

WEDNESDAY 28TH OF SEPTEMBER

| 12:30-14:00 | WHO Library |

Mark Roodhouse
University of York, UK

Denise Costa Coitinho
Standing Committee on Nutrition

FOOD SECURITY

.....
F a i r s h a r e s f o r a l l :
securing food supplies yesterday,
today and tomorrow

Soaring food prices and famine in the Horn of Africa; worse to come or problems that can be resolved by science, technology and government regulation?

Dr Mark Roodhouse, a historian of food rationing and black markets, considers lessons from rationing during the Second World War in Britain and will explain why there was so little evasion of food regulations. Denise Costa Coitinho of the United Nations System Standing Committee on Nutrition will present the UN perspective on food security.

.....
Hooman Momen / Coordinator WHO Press / Department of Department of Knowledge Management and Sharing (KMS) / momen@who.int