

GLOBAL HEALTH HISTORIES SEMINARS

Professor Hilary Graham,
University of York, UK

Seminar 50: Tobacco control

Dr Douglas Bettcher,
Tobacco Free Initiative, WHO

The smoking epidemic began in high-income countries a century ago; today, it is a global killer.

In this seminar, Professor Hilary Graham and Dr Douglas Bettcher examine the links between smoking and social disadvantage and consider the implications for tobacco control policy.

Contact: Hooman Momen, Coordinator WHO Press, Department of Department of Knowledge Management and Sharing (KMS)
Phone: +41 22 791 1162 (momenh@who.int). Website: http://www.who.int/global_health_histories